

22nd IEEE International SOC Conference

September 9-11, 2009 – Queen's University Belfast
Wellington Park Hotel – Belfast – Northern Ireland – UK

GENERAL INFORMATION

Over the past 21 years the IEEE SOC Conference has established itself as the prime annual event for VLSI and System on Chip. The conference provides a platform for the sharing and dissemination of original research, technical tutorials and has established itself as a forum for debating emerging challenges in VLSI and System on Chip technologies.

While SOC Conference is an excellent place for engineers to learn about the most recent technological achievements, it is also an ideal opportunity for companies to reach a focused audience about advances in CAD and EDA tools, ASIC components and board design, equipment, and career opportunities. In particular for small and medium sized corporations the association in the form of sponsorship and exhibitions has always been a great opportunity to raise their international visibility in this field.

CONFERENCE SPONSORSHIP

As with prior years, SOC Conference is accepting a limited number of corporate exhibitors and sponsors. The logos of sponsors and exhibitors will appear in the SOC Conference published program and on the IEEE SOC Conference web site (<http://www.ieee-socc.org>). They will also have the opportunity to exhibit their products, display posters and distribute brochures for the entire conference. The SoC Conference offers a range of additional sponsorship opportunities including promotional gifts, receptions, luncheons, and the very popular coffee break sponsorships. There are also opportunities to delivery company specific technical workshops. Sponsorship levels begin at €1000.
